Laptop too Hot?

Laptop hardware is getting ever more compact and powerful. Today's models let you play the newest games and work with highly demanding software. But this performance comes at the cost of large amounts of unnecessary heat that is produced by your components.

That's where the IB-CP101BL comes in! Its a cooling pad for your all laptops up to 17" and the large 20 cm fan removes excess heat even during intense gaming sessions. This improves both system stability and increases the lifetime of your laptop's components that produce the most heat like CPU and GPU.
